Homvio

FOR HOMEOWNERS

Your home, remembered.

Know what is installed, what needs attention, and where the records are.

Find the useful details

Keep model numbers, manuals, receipts and recorded service history with the right item.

Start with one thing

Add an appliance or system, review its details and keep building from there.

Start your home record / homv.io

Free for one home under the current plan.

Homvio

FOR REAL ESTATE TEAMS

The keys are just the beginning.

Give buyers a useful home record they can keep.

01 Prepare the record

Bring equipment details, approved documents and recorded maintenance together.

02 Review the handoff

Confirm the contents, the buyer and the permissions before sending.

03 Pass on the knowledge

Transfer the home record to the intended recipient at the appropriate time.

Start with your closing workflow

See how Homvio fits the person who manages your buyer handoff. Professional plans are separate from the free single-home owner plan.

Homvio

CLIENT WELCOME CARD / PRINT ON LETTER

Welcome home. Keep its story.

A useful place for the details that come with the keys.

Your next step

Open the personal Homvio invitation your real estate team sends you. Sign in using the recipient email and review the home transfer.

After you accept

Check the equipment details and documents, then choose a maintenance task to schedule or complete.

Your access, explained

Your invitation should explain any retained professional access. Review and manage access in your account.

Need the invitation? Ask your closing team to resend it. homv.io is the product website; it does not accept a private home transfer.

FIRST HOME RECORD CHECKLIST

Start small.
Keep what matters.

You do not need every detail on day one.

Pick one useful item

Choose the furnace, water heater or appliance you regularly have questions about.

Save its identity

Name, location, brand, model and serial number where known. Review photo-recognized information.

Attach the paperwork

Save an approved receipt, manual, warranty document or service note. Exclude unrelated personal documents.

Record what happened

Keep the date and description of actual work. Do not guess installation dates or warranty coverage.

Choose the next step

Use the item instructions and known history to schedule an appropriate task. Confirm suggestions before saving.
